Plan Joint Concert For Bristol, Antioch Bands in This Village

Final Bi-Weekly Concert Tuesday Drew Crowd; Dance Featured

A plan to unite the Antioch and Bristol (Wis.) community bands for a public concert, probably in Antioch is under way with a practice date set for Monday evening, Sept. 19 at the village hall in Bristol. The date for the concert will be set at that time.

The Bristol band comprises musicians from various communities in Kenosha county. Although it gives but one concert in Bristol it is busy all summer participating in parades and giving concerts in other villages for special events. The organization is 15 years old and is especially adept at marching.

Bandmaster Rockwell of the Bristol band will prepare a half hour program which he will direct and Bandmaster Louis Cheneau of the Antioch Community band will prepare a half hour program which he will direct.

The Antioch band gave its last regular concert of the summer Tuesday evening and a large assemblage of persons in cars gave its vociferous approval.

Carol Grienke, Round Lake dance artist, gave a fine performance and was called back for an encore. A band number interspersed her two appearances because she had to change to a tap dance outfit for her encore.

The band is planning its fall minstrel show to raise money for next year's expense for music so that they may continue their bi-weekly concerts.

"Our organization is gaining momentum and we are getting better right along," said W. V. Lahti, publicity director. "We are just hoping that the community will realize it is its band and that more persons who can play a musical instrument will join us."

Lahli also said that there is a possibility that the Bristol musicians and the Antioch musicians would form a 10-piece band for a concert at Bristol or Salem and one some Tuesday evening in Antioch next summer.

Model House to Go On Display Saturday In Antioch Heights

A model house that is attracting much attention will go on display Saturday, Sunday, and Monday on W. Second st., one block west of Main st., in the Antioch Heights subdivision of Art Laursen.

The house constructed by Ken Kirchmeyer Construction Co. is a three bedroom brick ranch type building which the construction company will erect for only $10,795.

It has a living room with a flower box partition for the dining room, a tile bath with colored fixtures, and modern kitchen.

Other features are a 10-in solid concrete foundation wall, face brick veneer, completely insulated, large picture window, six large closets, tile floors throughout, birch flush doors, and ranch trim.

Kirchmeyer has built nearly 300 homes in the Antioch and Lake Villa communities and has wide experience in construction work. He has built 65 houses in the new Oakwood Knolls subdivision.

While prepared to build additional houses in the Antioch Heights subdivision Kirchmeyer will also build houses anywhere in this area.

The model house will be open from 9 a.m. until dark on the days indicated.

Mr. Fridell was born Dec. 31, 1888 in Boston, Mass. A year ago he retired from the Joseph T. Ryerson Steel Co. in Chicago where he had been employed as a machine department foreman 43 years. He came to Antioch community two years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Nelson Chapel, 5149 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago with the Wright Grove Masonic Lodge of Paulina and Wilson Aves. participating. The body will be cremated and placed at Grace-land cemetery, Chicago.

Antioch Rescue Squad Cares for Injured in Crash at Rtes. 173-41

The Antioch Rescue squad aided in caring for the injured in a two-car collision at Rte. 173 and Skokie Hwy. Sunday.

Three Chicagoans and a Kenosha youth were hurt when cars driven by James C. Van Zile, Kenosha, and Angelo Minutillo, Chicago, collided.

The Antioch first aid men took Mrs. Rose Ferrari, 42, Chicago, to Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan suffering from chest and head injuries. Her husband, Mike Ferrari, 45, suffered head injuries and Mrs. Helen Minutillo, 53, suffered a broken leg, and likewise was taken to the hospital.

William Stein, 18, Kenosha, was cut on the head.

Sheriff's police reported that the crash occurred when Van Zile's car rammed into the Minutillo car as Minutillo attempted a left turn. Other drivers at the intersection had motioned for Minutillo to make the turn and were waiting for him to do so. Van Zile, apparently unaware of this passed them on the outside.

August Weather Adds To Record of Hottest Summer for Antioch

This year will go down in history as having one of the hottest summers on record.

The report for August by Cooperative observer Roy I. Kufalk shows that on 13 days the maximum temperature was 90 degrees or above, which is perhaps a record for that month.

The hottest day was 97 degrees on August 21 when in other areas the mercury got up to 100.

The month started out with a 93-degree reading but ended with a low of 51 degrees Tuesday night. Rainfall for the month was 3.43 inches. The greatest amount was 1.78 inch on Aug. 5 and 6, and there was practically no rain from then on until Monday afternoon when 1.05 inch fell between 5 p.m. and midnight.

Lack of rain during the three-week period was damaging to the corn and to the pastures. More rain will be needed before the pastures are back in proper condition. The rain Monday ushered in cooler weather which is greatly appreciated by most persons.

School's Open, Watch For Children Tuesday

As a million Illinois school children reluctantly forego playgrounds for classrooms, Governor William G. Stratton joined Chicago Motor Club President Chas. M. Hayes in a plea to motorists to exercise increased alertness and reduced speeds.

The first week of September was designated "School's Open Week" in Illinois by the governor. In his proclamation the governor pointed out that thousands of children attend schools for the first time. They could be frightened at their first contact with moving vehicle traffic.

He urged all who drive motor vehicles "to give due cooperation and full recognition to greater consideration of the children of Illinois who also must use the streets, roads and highways of our state."

The "School's Open" drive is the sixth annual joint effort of the Chicago Motor Club, city and state officials. It seeks to bring to a halt accident rates which have resulted in thousands of children being injured annually. This year 15,000 "drive carefully" Motor Club safety posters have been mailed to municipalities throughout Illinois and Indiana. They are being posted at busy intersections and highway travel thoroughfares.

Last year motorists killed 16 children and injured 3,378 between the ages of 5 to 14 in Chicago alone from September 1, 1954 to June 30, 1955. Club officials said, however, only one death and five injuries occurred at a crossing guarded by the school safety patrol.

There will be 45,000 school patrol members from the state's 1,857 parochial and public schools helping Illinois motorists and children to make this "School's Open Week" as well as the entire school season, a safe one.

Parents of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bjork are the parents of a daughter, "Kristine Marie," born August 29, at Highland Park hospital. The little girl weighed seven pounds and 7 ounces.

78 Out for Football On A.T.H.S. Squads; Sophs Have 7 Games

Seventy-eight candidates are in uniform and practicing daily for the Antioch Township High School football teams.

Thirty-one players, one of them a sophomore, are getting their first plays under the instruction of Coach Paul Kessenich and his assistant Coach Lawrence Leon.

Coach Robert Heath has charge of a squad of 25 sophomores and Coach Don Chiappetta was 22 freshmen under his instruction with the probability that the number will increase when school opens.

The early part of this week was devoted to conditioning exercises but from now on the fundamentals of the game will be rehearsed and plays practiced.

"We have a lot to do in the varsity squad," said Coach Kessenich, who said that the lettermen are getting a good start but that others have much to accomplish.

The sophomores with their year of experience in 1954 are commencing to get their bearings. They have a seven-game schedule which will be as follows:

Monday, Sept. 19—Grant there at 4 p.m.; Monday, Sept. 26—Ela-Vernon there at 4 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 1—Grayslake there at 6:15 p.m.; Friday, Oct. 7—Glenbrook there at 6:30 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 15—Bensenville here at 6:15 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 22—Wauconda there at 12:30 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 29—Palatine here at 6:15 p.m.

Alarm Over Prowler in Grass Lake Area Dies

Residents in the Chain of Lakes area and particularly along Grass Lake rd. have been alarmed by the appearance of a prowler, but he has not been seen in the past week and it is believed that he has been frightened away.

Last Thursday a posse of 30 men hunted the prowler without success. They thought they had him cornered in a barn, but when sheriff's police searched the place they found no one.

Pat Dowd, who stays at the Wohleb home on Grass Lake rd., told deputies Saturday he saw a prowler at the back door of his home late one night. The description was the same as that given by others. A report that he had been seen at the Edwards home on Hermon's rd. at Bluff lake proved to be a false alarm. Police learned that it was a local resident walking his dog.

Mass Distribution in Action

It is reported that the nation's department and specialty stores experienced an excellent first quarter and that there was no letup in the improvement noted in the last three months of 1954. The most important aspect, the report says, is found in an increase in profits.

From this it might be judged that each time we spend a dollar in one of these stores, a large amount sticks in the hands of the owners. That is hardly the case. For, even with the improvement, the stores' profit amounted to but 1.4 per cent of sales, after taxes. In the same period last year it was 1.1 per cent.

This is mass distribution in action. A good total profit is made by selling a vast amount of goods at a very moderate unit profit.

Delightful Pet to Dangerous Beast

This paragraph, from an editorial in Christian Economics, could be profitably read and memorized by all of us: "There is little danger that the people of our country will ever adopt communism. We know it for what it is and we do not want it. Our danger arises from the fact that most of our citizens are not yet aware that socialism, when fully developed, becomes communism or some form of totalitarianism. Baby tigers are said to be delightful pets but they grow into dangerous beasts."

Keep that in mind when you hear it argued that government should operate some business or other, or steadily enlarge its authority over the lives and destinies of individuals and enterprises. Look out for the dangerous beast!

Coal Is Power

Coal is power. And power, in apparently limitless amounts, is the primary need of the world today. There are, of course, other forms of power, ranging from oil to the atom. But this in no wise diminishes the importance of coal, which remains as basic to our country today as it was in the past. Coal is the principal source of electricity, and the fuel which is required in the production of every ton of our steel. Through miracles of chemistry, coal has been made to produce products as varied as fabrics and medicines.

In war or other emergency, the role played by coal is of enormous consequence. The industries it serves must swiftly increase their output, and a heavy demand falls on coal. Other fuels and sources of energy are largely pre-empted for purely military use. Coal is then called upon to fill the vacuum.

These facts indicate why the present plight of coal—characterized by dangerously low production and the virtual disappearance of profits—is a matter of grave concern to the country. Coal can't run at low speed now and be expected to shift at once into high gear when a need arises. To open closed mines and to reassemble laid-off working force is tremendously expensive—both in money and in time. A solution to coal's problems must be found—not in the industry's interest but in the general interest.

* * * Corporations for Sale

Physically speaking New York's famous Wall Street isn't much. As Anthony M. Reinach writes in The Freeman, "It begins at a graveyard, and ends ingloriously at the brink of the East River." But, he goes on, "Wall Street is significant in that it symbolizes the basic freedom most Americans take for granted—the freedom of an individual to seek opportunity and expand his own well-being through the ownership and exchange of property."

Wall Street is the home of our principal stock exchange, and other allied financial institutions. Without it, Mr. Reinach points out, we wouldn't have the big companies which make, for example, steel and oil and farm equipment—"Therefore, there would be no cheap oil, no cheap steel and no tractor a farmer could afford to buy." And there wouldn't be all the thousand and one other goods and services our corporations produce.

Mr. Reinach makes another very important point. "Every business day more than 20,000 companies are in the process of changing hands," he says. "They are constantly 'up for sale' in the form of paper known as shares of common stock." Anybody can buy this stock in small or large quantities, at prices which are made public every business day and which are established in a free market. Thus, everybody can go into the oil business, the coal business, the chemical business, the auto business, or any other business.

What does Wall Street stand for? It stands for economic democracy—which maintains our political democracy.

"Government Shall Not Support the People"

In 1887, Congress passed a bill appropriating $10,000 to buy seed and distribute it to drought-hit farmers. President Grover Cleveland acknowledged that the motives behind this were benevolent. Yet he vetoed the measure, in a message which contained this statement: "Though the people support the government the government should not support the people." The country sorely needs adherence to that principle today.

Legal Extortion

General Motors has been required to notify some 18,000 workmen that they will have to join a certain union by a specified date or lose their jobs, except in the 17 states which have passed the right-to-work laws. This is in accordance with the Taft-Hartley act. Under it, when a company signs up for a union shop, a non-union man can be hired, but he must join the union in 90 days and pay dues or be fired. The law does not even limit assessments that can be charged him.

The issue here is neither pro-union nor anti-union—it involves the basic principle of the right of choice and the right to work without coercion.

What becomes of a free country when a man is forced to join and pay in order to earn his bread and butter?

Would anyone advocate a law forcing or allowing General Motors to fire a man if he did not resign from a union within 90 days after it hired him? How would that be different from the present situation where it has to fire him if he doesn't join?

Here is a good example of might being right. A powerful private labor organization can legally extort money (dues) from a man on the penalty of having him fired.

Apparently the only solution is for the balance of the individual states to pass right-to-work laws as 17 have already done.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

The New Hampshire 3-cent stamp carries a message from "The old man of the mountains" that needs a rebroadcasting. "Live free or die" is the motto of that New Hampshire-land. Rugged folks—those White Mountain boys.

You know, living free is not so free as it sounds when we say this is the "land of the free and the home of the brave." You try, as a sample, going into the electric power business on your own free hook in Tennessee-land. You might get in but you would soon get out. Trying to compete with a tax-free TVA would make your path rocky and rough—you could not cut the mustard. Your only freedom would be to close up shop—or do as New Hampshire says, take your choice.

And say you live in some far away State—and don't choose to ante an extra tax to keep TVA's nose above water—where is freedom. Sambo sends you his April 15th bill and you pay it or you go to "prison." Your State can't secede. Freedom has been watered down. But things are not hopeless—exactly. A brand new congress by taking heed of Mr. Hoover's Task Force recommendations could be making it tough for everybody to freely flex his muscle. Congress could get us out of the corncribs, cotton gins and the other tax-eater shenanigans, that raise the prices of cornbread, night shirts and what have you.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Herman Holbek and Sister, Mrs. Elsie Andersen Of Denmark Reunited After Twenty-four Years

This is a happy week for Herman Holbek, owner of the Ben Franklin store; his sister Mrs. Elsie Andersen of Copenhagen, Denmark, arrived Monday and it was the first time the two had seen each other in 24 years.

It was Mrs. Andersen who recognized Holbek first when her train arrived in Chicago where he met her. With Mrs. Andersen was a companion from Copenhagen, Miss Hanna Halland.

The two came to the United States by airplane, not only to visit Mr. Holbek and his family but to study American restaurants for new ideas that may be used in Mrs. Andersen's large restaurant in Copenhagen. The restaurant is one of the best known in Copenhagen and one of the musts for American tourists.

Recently Mrs. Andersen dined with Conrad Hilton, owner of a string of hotels both in United States and abroad, and he announced that he is considering opening a hotel and dining room in Denmark.

Both Herman and his sister are taking advantage of every moment to catch up on events here and in Denmark. There are two brothers and another sister in Denmark. The mother died two years ago and the father died while the children were young.

Before going by plane back to Denmark Mrs. Andersen and Miss Halland will go to Washington, D.C., Buffalo and other cities in the east and do some sight seeing and continue their observation of restaurant practices.

The fund is made up of contributions from employees, most of them anonymous, which are deposited in a trust fund. According to Hayden G. Fulton, treasurer of the Foundation, it is hoped that the fund will be invested so that income will provide at least one scholarship each year.

The recipient of the scholarship is selected from high school graduating classes. First, he must be the son or daughter of an employee of Fansteel or one of its subsidiaries (Vascoloy-Ramet Corporation in Waukegan and WW Alloys, Inc., in Detroit). His school grades, of course, must be outstanding, but of almost equal importance are his ambitions for higher education and his attitudes. Finally, there must be a need for financial assistance.

Selection is made by a committee consisting of Joseph A. Teece and Earl Tveit from Fansteel, Guy Anderson of Vascoloy-Ramet, Clarence Pritchard of Waukegan Township High School, William Webster of Community High School, North Chicago, and Arsene Denoyer of United Educators.

Fred Clarke graduated from Antioch Township High School in June with high honors. He is the son of George R. Clarke, a Fansteel employee.

Fred is entering the Technology Institute at Northwestern University this fall, and intends to become an industrial engineer.

His Aitchison Scholarship is sufficient to pay his tuition during the freshman year, and he has been offered employment as a trainee in the Fansteel industrial engineering department during the summer of 1956.

British Isles Large And Small, Number In Hundreds

LONDON—Great Britain is the earth's eighth largest island. You would expect the British to let it stand at that. Instead, the major British Isles are fringed with hundreds of smaller ones, some in flocks and coves, and others standing in stark isolation. While this clutters things up considerably, it works out to the advantage of the vacationist, for some of Britain's best travel attractions lie a little way offshore.

Someone has put the number of British Isles at 902. This figure undoubtedly includes every bit of land surrounded by water large enough to stretch your legs on and above water at high tide.

Not all of Britain's islands are tiny, but none of them is without color. Four of the most important groups, for example, keep alive something of the tongues they spoke before English.

The Channel Islands—Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney, Sark and scores of lesser ones—cling to their Breton dialect. Just off France, they are the last remnants of William the Conqueror's original French realm.

Good-sized Isle of Man and its tiny satellites lie in the Irish sea, in easy reach of England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and Eire. Here the Manx language, a form of Celtic, survives in written form, along with assorted wee folk (a fairy queen's own cup is in the Manx Museum).

The west of Scotland is half islands, some hugging the mainland and others, like the Outer Hebrides, separated by broad straits.

'Four-Hour' Pills May Be Outmoded

NEW YORK—Taking pills every "four hours" may be a thing of the past. They're now putting out pills "with a built-in memory"; the medicine being put into "extended action tablets" which produce their effects evenly through the night.

The tablet consists of two parts. The outer coating, or shell, contains one dose. This dissolves in the stomach immediately and passes into the small intestine, where it is effective for three or four hours.

Then the inner core of the tablet takes over. It is equal to two old-fashioned tablets. Passing into the small intestine intact, it dissolves slowly. It's like a piece of hard candy in the mouth, only it takes hours to dissolve, not minutes.

Often a doctor prescribes a medication because he wants the patient to benefit from the sustained effect, round-the-clock, over days, weeks, or even months. Under the new regime, one tablet each morning and one at night does the trick.

Geriatric Department In Future's Store

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va.—Folks have been talking about cars, planes, and houses of the future—what will drug store look like in 1980?

Dan Rennick, editor of American Druggist, says that among other things it will feature a Geriatric Products department—a section devoted to drugs, foods and other supplies needed by the aged.

The proportion of persons over 65 is increasing so rapidly. Rennick says, that by that time the oldsters will constitute more than 10 per cent of the nation. He estimates there will be nearly twice as many people 65-and-older than there are today.

The store will also have a waiting room for customers waiting for prescriptions and, for the most part, the store will feature self-service since there will be a shortage of clerks.

Oregon Dims Value Of Salmon Derbies

SALEM, Ore.—The Oregon Legislature has virtually put an end to the many fish derbies which usually attracted thousands of fishermen during the big fall salmon runs.

Previously, fishermen flocked to the many coastal streams and bays to compete for thousands of dollars worth of prizes in fish derbies which State game officials and conservationists said were killing off the salmon runs.

The lawmakers approved a bill limiting derby awards to buttons, ribbons, emblems, plaques and trophies.

Cop On The Job

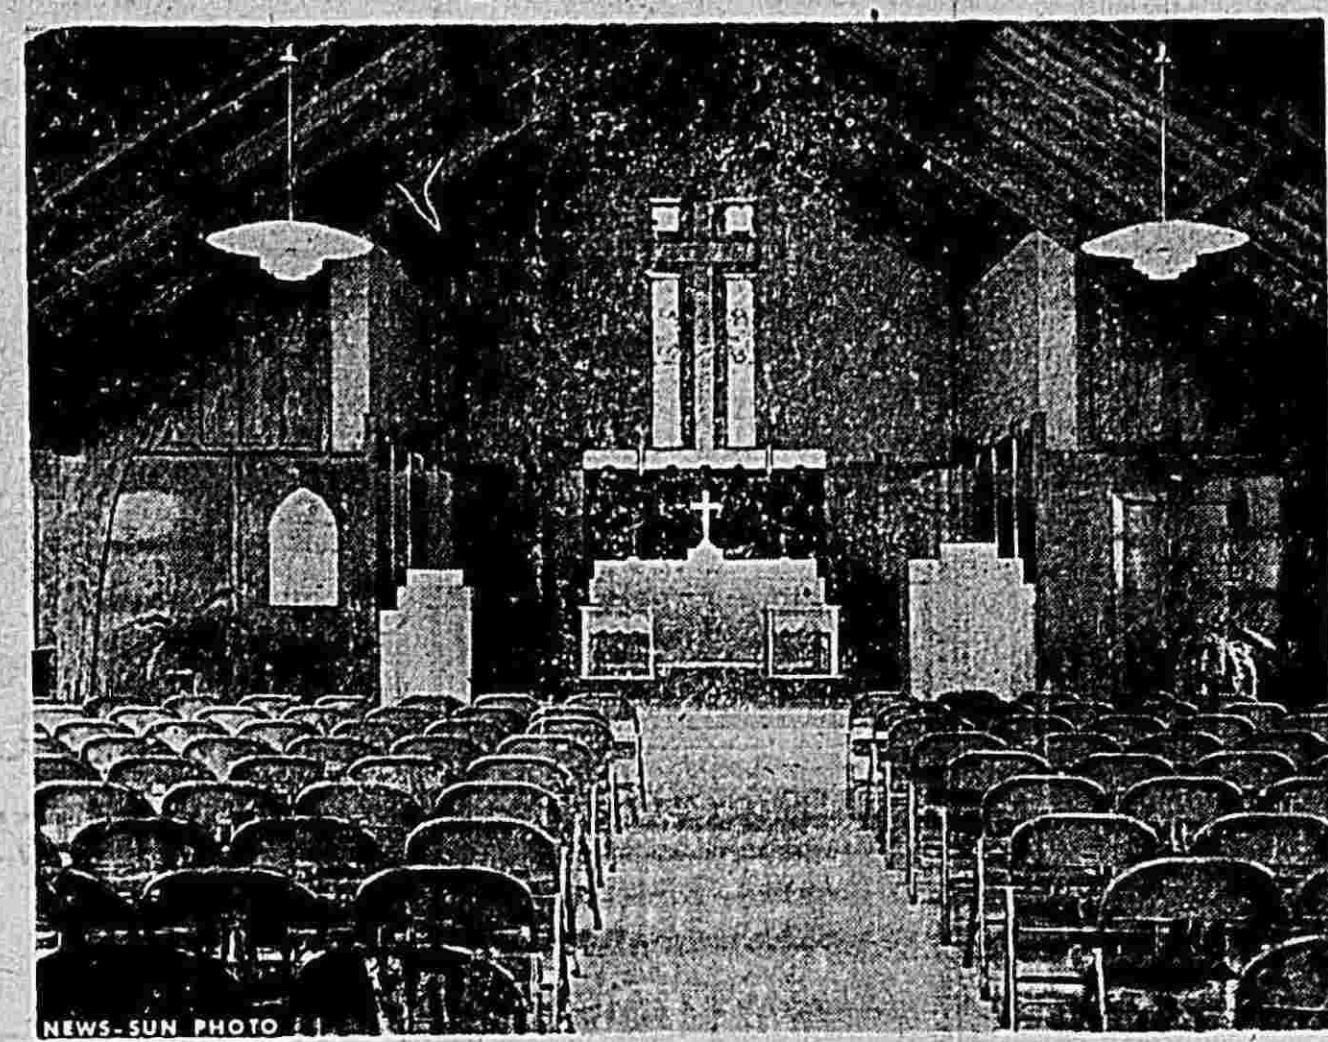

BOSTON—Patrolman John McCarthy, stationed at a hospital, solved a robbery without even leaving his beat.

McCarthy noticed two youths dividing a large number of quarters. One was waiting for treatment of a cut hand.

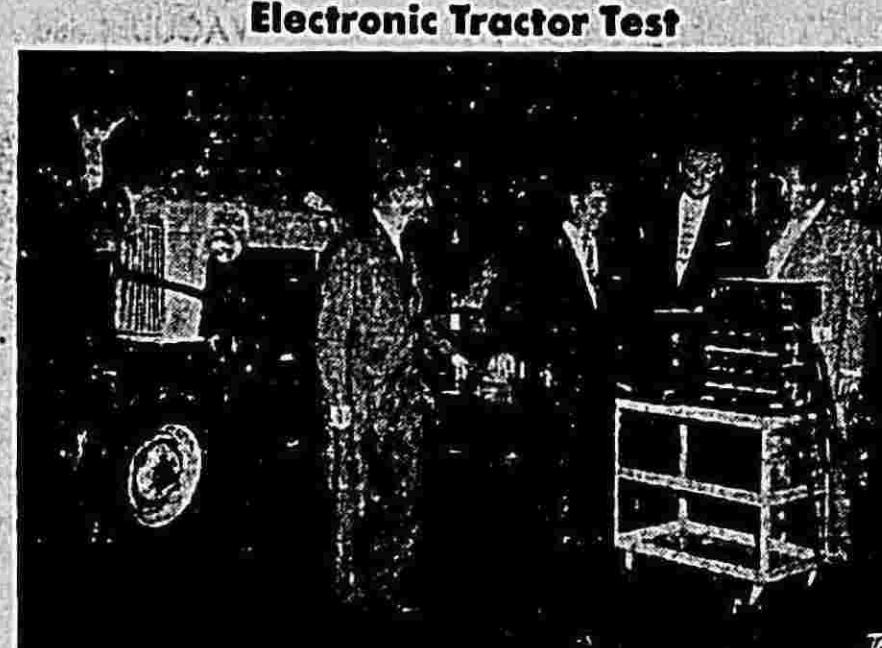

McCarthy investigated and got the pair to confess they had just broken into a tavern and were dividing the loot.

Electronic Tractor Test

BIRMINGHAM, MICH.—It's a far cry from the days of Model T cars and the Fordson tractors as Henry Ford II, right, president, and other officials of Ford Motor Company inspect electronic testing equipment at the company's new multi-million dollar Farm Machinery Research and Engineering Center here. Irving A. Duffy, second from right, vice president and general manager, Tractor and Implement Division, is explaining how a recording oscillograph is used to accurately measure the strength of modern farm equipment. Others shown are Benson Ford, vice president, left, and Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board.

GUIDE TO GOOD DRIVING Guarantee Vacation Trips Against Hot Car, Hot Temper; Here's How:

Vacation time is a time to relax. According to the Automobile Manufacturers Association, about 83 per cent of vacation travel is done by automobile, and the average round trip is 978 miles.

That's a lot of driving but it can be a lot of fun. However, unless last winter's anti-freeze has been drained from the car's cooling system, it can't be trouble-free driving. Such leading authorities as the Society of Automotive Engineers, the U.S.

Bureau of Standards and Du

Pont's anti-freeze laboratory warn that there is a good chance of the engine overheating and the radiator boiling over during the vacation trip if the worn-out anti-freeze is still in the car.

"Permanent" is Misnomer

There is no such thing as a truly "permanent" anti-freeze, they explain. The word "permanent" is something of a misnomer. It is used in the same sense as in connection with a woman's permanent wave. They state that while "permanent" anti-freeze may offer protection against freeze-ups for more than one winter, the rust inhibitor in it can wear out and turn the whole cooling solution acid after one season's use.

This acid solution attacks the engine block and radiator, causing rust and corrosion which clogs the system. The flow of water is thus impeded and the engine quickly overheats. Adding fresh inhibitor doesn't solve the problem either since the corrosive salts formed by the old inhibitor will remain active.

Care-free vacation motoring is fun. Drain-out and check-up now can keep it that way.

Modern Glasses Offer Protection From Eye Injury

CHICAGO—In these modern times eyeglasses are used not only to correct visual errors, but also to protect eyes from damage.

One of the newer type inact-resistant lens is "case hardened" by heating and chilling with an air blast under rigid temperature controls. This lens is thicker than a regular one (3mm. minimum), and has to pass a test in which a $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch steel ball is dropped from a height of 50 inches onto its front surface. In other words, it has about twice the impact strength of a regular lens of equal thickness. And it's approximately five times as resistant to breakage when dropped on the floor. This lens is helpful to children or adults who want some protection, as it provides considerable extra strength at moderate cost.

Another type is heated and cooled under special stress. It isn't unusually thick, but must remain intact when a $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch steel ball is dropped from a height of 50 inches onto its front surface. In other words, it has about twice the impact strength of a regular lens of equal thickness. And it's approximately five times as resistant to breakage when dropped on the floor. This lens is helpful to children or adults who want some protection, as it provides considerable extra strength at moderate cost.

Still another type is the laminated lens, which is made in the same way as an automobile windshield and has the same "shatter-proof" quality. This costs more than the above types and is more apt to crack, but, on the other hand, it affords greater safety. So it's recommended for accident-prone children, one-eyed people, athletes, and certain industrial workers.

Skeletal Criteria Determines Age

WASHINGTON—How old was a dead man? How old, for that matter, is a living man?

There are numerous skeletal criteria for determining age, none by itself completely conclusive but a combination of which has a high reliability. Such an age-measuring rod often is an important requirement in crime detection, positive identification of war dead, validation of wills, and many other fields.

A little-explored subject is the relation of the soft parts of the body to the underlying bones. From a skull a thousand years old, for example, it probably would be possible to construct a quite realistic portrait of the living individual.

In establishing identification, scientists say, accurate impressions of the teeth, in which all contours of the original teeth are recorded, can be as valuable and as reliable as fingerprints. The blood group to which one belongs can be determined long after death from the bones.

'Advertised' Husband Leaves 17 Applicants

SYDNEY, Australia—A sister's worry over a bachelor brother brought about the case of 17 prospective brides.

Mrs. Jean Fox worried that her 37-year-old brother, Roy, was not married, so she advertised for a wife for him, she revealed.

Now she has 17 prospective brides, but Roy is not to be found.

Mrs. Fox advertised, "Good husband material going to waste," and pointed out her brother had a car and a good job. She received 17 applications.

Her brother, however, left town, leaving a message, "Don't try to find me."

Mental Health No Worse Problem

NEW YORK—Although the mental health problem in the United States has been growing in magnitude over the past 20 years, certain features of the problem appear worse than they really are, says a life insurance company's recent report.

Although the number of first admissions of psychiatric patients to hospitals for long-term care has increased more than 60 per cent over the 20-year period, and the number of patients under care has risen almost as rapidly, a substantial part of the rise reflects merely the increase in population and the growing proportion of people at the older ages.

In New York State, for example, about 30 per cent of the increase in first admissions of women to mental hospitals during the past two decades is accounted for by these population factors.

Delayed Action

SPOKANE, Wash.—George Crispin put out a rubbish fire that threatened his garage and congratulated himself for having saved the fire department.

But a few minutes later he called firemen. He had hung the sweater used to smother the rubbish fire in the garage. Sparks from the sweater set the building ablaze.

A SUGGESTION FOR YOUR FAMILY'S SAFETY

A cranky, overired child usually upsets a household, gets nerves on edge, makes tempers short and calm individuals irritable. And that's when accidents can happen. Particularly during the school vacation and hot weather, see to it that your child takes time out from playtime activities to rest and relax; that he or she gets sufficient sleep at night. It will help the youngster to stay healthy, help prevent family nervous tension and the possibility of needless accidents.

1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder 1 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt 2 teaspoons lemon juice
6 tablespoons hot milk

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Beat eggs with egg beater in small deep bowl until very thick and light (about 5 minutes). Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add lemon juice. Fold in flour, a small amount at a time. Then add hot milk and stir in quickly until thoroughly blended.

Pour batter at once into two round 9-inch layer pans which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 15 minutes. After baking, invert pans on cake racks until cake is cool. Spread sliced bananas and whipped cream between layers and top with whipped cream, garnish with sliced bananas.

By JACK SEIB and JOHN SHERBET

Man . . . that's gold in this television business. If you have talent to show before the TV camera, you're as good as wealthy. Some of the financial figures being tossed at the well known stars of radio and movies are fabulous. A well seasoned movie star of Hollywood will receive $100,000 for a single picture. A personal appearance demands around $35,000 to $50,000. Even the not-too-well known stars that are good will earn $10,000 for an hour's work before the camera. The popular announcers that spell the commercials run around a $100,000 per year.

Of course, this is the rosy side of the business. According to recent surveys, the average actor on Broadway earns an average of $750 per year or about forty cents per hour. They wait on tables and drive taxis to get by meanwhile. But the big dough in sight keeps them struggling for the big time.

But if he's a $1,000,000 personality or a forty cent an hour aspirant, you must have a TV receiver that is right for viewing these people. That's where we shine at COURTEOUS TV. We're proud that we are necessary to bring all this talent into your living room. Anytime that your TV set doesn't do this, phone Antioch 144 and let us prove our ability.

MILLIONS OF parts, thousands of tons of delicate and complicated machinery, 11,570,000 square feet of area and upwards of 45,000 people on the job! That's what Lockheed Aircraft Corporation uses in producing aircraft ranging from bulged-top radar planes for military, below, to domestic airliners.

INSTALLING intricate electrical wiring system of luxurious Constellation is typical of tasks confronting company's workers. One of every five is a woman.

AT SPRAWLING California division plant in Burbank workers are often dwarfed by such production line features as three-bladed, 15-foot propellers on giant 66-passenger airliners.

CLOSELY LINKED with Lockheed operations is motor truck transportation. Its big trucks and trailers are more than transport vehicles—they are an extension of assembly lines that produce components of aircraft. International trucks, like that shadowed above by Constellation's nose, virtually tie the company's three California factories together.

LEARN TO LIFT CORRECTLY

There are probably a lot more lifting jobs around the house each day than you realize. And many more cases of hernia, particularly with men, than you imagine. How about just moving the furniture, heavy packages, setting up the extension ladder, changing the storm windows and screens, getting the boat in the water? The way to avoid hernia and back strain is to make safe lifting a habit. The right way is to get close to the load, bend your knees, keep the back straight, then lift — using only the leg and arm muscles. Get help on heavy or bulky loads.

Kenneth Buchta Hurt
When Truck Overturns
On Voltz Lake Road

Kenneth Buchta was taken to Victory Memorial hospital Tuesday afternoon suffering from what may be internal injuries received when the truck he was driving overturned into a deep ditch on Voltz Lake rd. a mile east of Rte. 83 in Kenosha county, Wis.

Cause of the accident was not learned by the Rescue Squad members, Everett J. Oftedahl and Walter I. Scott, who said that another truck driver had helped Buchta out of the truck by the time they arrived with the ambulance. They took him to Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan on instruction of a local physician.

Buchta, aged 22, was hauling dirt for Lee Fox at the time of the accident. He is a son of Leo Buchta.

The scene of the accident is a mile east of Ben Noble and Son's City Service Station, formerly the Gruber Filling station.

From other sources it was learned that Buchta attempted to pull around a fill in the road and drove onto a soft shoulder which gave way allowing his truck to turn over down a 20-foot embankment. He was able to crawl from the cab unassisted. He was taken to the hospital though for observation, fearing that he had suffered a rupture.

New Sinclair Station
On Main St. Attracts Much Attention, Trade

A new Sinclair service station that cannot escape attention is that of Jim Brodie on North Main st. just north of the Depot st. intersection.

Opened a week ago yesterday the station is already attracting a lot of business. It has four pumps, and the owner of the property, Joe Horton, who leased it to Brodie, plans to pave an additional area so that two more pumps can be put in next spring.

Brodie formerly operated a service station in Ingleside at Rtes. 12 and 59.

Chicago Child Injured
By Boat Motor Sunday

Mary Holter, 10, a resident of 718 South Prospect st. in Chicago, suffered a broken upper left arm and possible fracture of ribs as the result of being struck by a motor boat propeller at Channel Lake Sunday. She was staying with the family near the Channel Lake school.

Members of the Antioch Rescue Squad brought her to an Antioch physician for care.

Corn can be stored several years without losing its feeding value, says the August issue of Successful Farming magazine. Fifty-five pound pigs on 6-year-old government-stored corn gained 1.52 pounds daily as compared with 1.55 pounds for those on new corn in tests at Kansas State College.

Eames Gives Rules For Safe Driving

If you expect to drive in the heavy traffic expected during the coming Labor Day weekend, it may pay you to look over the "Big Ten" safety rules outlined by Danny Eames, noted chief test driver for Dodge Division, Chrysler Corp.

1. Traffic regulations are for your protection. Observe them.

2. Keep a safe distance between yourself and the car ahead, particularly at higher speeds.

3. Stay in your own lane on hills, curves, and in "no-passing" zones.

4. If driving at night, dim your lights to oncoming traffic.

5. The right of way may rightfully belong to you, but if a pedestrian comes along, give it to him. (And that doesn't mean "Let him have it!").

6. Always be on the alert for children!

7. Know the proper hand or direction signals and be sure to use them!

8. Watch where you're going, and where the cars behind, ahead, and on both sides are going.

9. Give the other fellow more than his share of the road and watch him!

10. Regulate speed to road conditions, rather than posted speed limits.

You can't think of ten things at once, but try to keep the "Big Ten" tips in the back of your mind when you drive this weekend. If you do you'll be sure to get back to your labors on Tuesday, Sept. 6.

School Bus to Start Sept. 7. Students must provide their own transportation for Tuesday when they report to the Antioch Township High school to pay fees and receive their schedules. Regular bus service will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 7.

Bus routes have been changed to improve the service. The new schedules will be given to the students on Tuesday, Sept. 6.

CHICAGO—A new type of television set that uses a flash beam from a small pistol-shaped gadget with no connecting wires to turn the set on or off, to change channels, and to tune out or eliminate long commercials, has been developed by Zenith Radio Corporation.
